

Recall British Crews in Suez Crisis Northern Burma Invaded by Red Chinese

Troops Set Outposts Near Front Action Is Called Security Threat

Rangoon, Burma, July 31 (AP)—Several hundred Red Chinese troops were reported today to have invaded Burma's mountainous northern frontier. The Burmese government said tonight it was "seriously concerned" over developments in the area.

A statement from the Burmese foreign office said some of the Chinese troops had established outposts in Wa state in northeast Burma close to the border.

THE REPORTS received here said the Communist Chinese had crossed the frontier along a 500-mile arc and advanced up to 60 miles into Burmese territory.

"The Burmese government is in close touch with developments in the border region," the government statement declared.

The statement said that the Burmese government had brought the matter to the attention of Peiping and "negotiations are in progress with a view to withdrawal of these Chinese troops to the Chinese side of the border."

THE STATEMENT was issued after a meeting of Prime Minister Ba Swe with cabinet leaders and chiefs of the armed forces. Reports from the border area said the Reds crossed in small bands and occupied positions in a wide arc between Puato (Ft. Hertz), at the northern tip of the country, and Kunlong ferry, on the Salween river south of the wartime Burma road to China.

The executive committee of Ba Swe's party, the anti-fascist people's freedom league, was told there is a "threat to Burma's security."

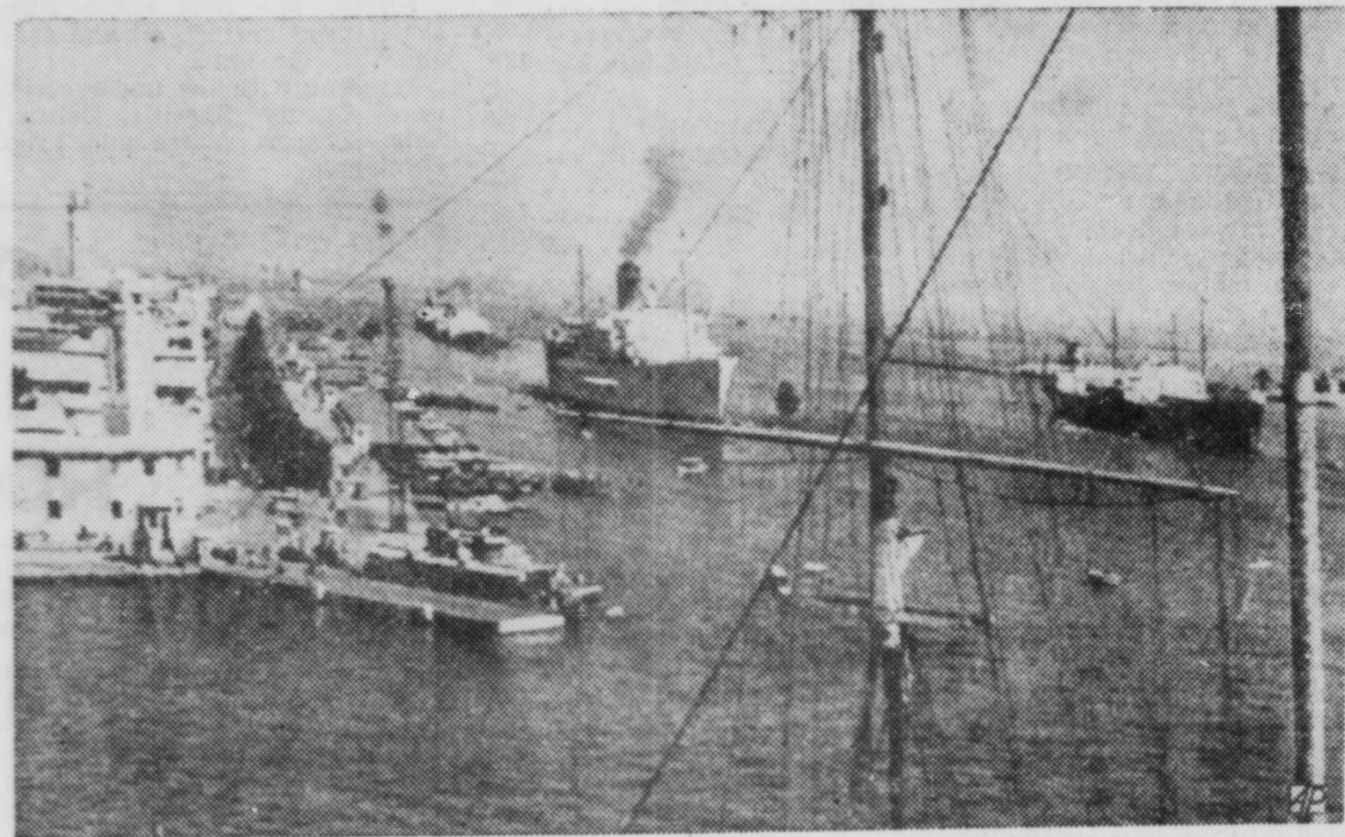

COMMUNIST patrols have crossed the 1,000-mile, poorly defined border but always have withdrawn after Burmese protests. Peiping customarily blames errors of local border commanders.

The latest crossings, however, appeared to be in considerably greater strength than previous incursions. They also followed reports from Burmese officials in the area that Chinese army units along the border have been reinforced with regular troops in recent months.

Because of the increased Communist activity across the frontier, Burmese army troops now are being sent to the area to replace or bolster the thinly strung border police.

RED CHINA'S embassy in Rangoon had no comment on the invasion report.

One report from the area quoted Red Chinese soldiers as saying they were searching for "machitsay," a plant believed to be a power antidote against (Continued on Page 17, Col. 5)

Lower Tax Rate Seen, Vet Exemptions Stay

Mayor Frederick H. Stang said today that application of the city's new assessment figures should bring a substantial reduction in next year's tax rate despite the need for certain "mandatory budget increases."

"If we were to apply the new assessments to the present budget," he noted, "the rate would be substantially reduced, and we can almost guarantee, at this time, that there will be a reduction in the tax rate next year because of the over-all increase in assessed valuation."

Actual results, he said, will not be noticed until next February.

Blaze Claims 12 In Nursing Home

Puxico, Mo., July 31 (AP)—Fire swept quickly through the Reagan Nursing Home late last night and trapped 12 of the 13 residents, most of them in or beside their beds.

Nine of those who perished were 72 to 91. All were from Puxico or nearby towns. One was bedfast.

Only Mrs. Sherry Frederick, an elderly patient, escaped. Two men scrambled up to the roof of the front porch, broke out a window of her second floor room and pulled her to safety.

The body of Mrs. Bertha Reagan, 55, who overhauled the old three-story building and opened her nursing home 21 months ago, was found in the first-floor kitchen. She apparently was trying to get out the back door but it was locked. (Continued on Page 17, Col. 6)

Area Chest Goal for Fall Campaign Set at $108,000

A goal of $108,000 was set for next fall's Kingston Area Community Chest drive by the board of directors of that organization at a meeting Monday night.

The sum, adopted upon recommendation of the Chest's budget committee, is to meet the 1957 operational expenses of eight local agencies.

Adoption of the goal came without a dissenting vote after Edward K. Lefren, chairman of the budget committee, outlined his committee's recommendations at the meeting, which was held at Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation's auditorium.

Mr. Lefren explained that each member agency had submitted a preliminary estimate of needs for 1957, and these were carefully studied by the committee, which also took into consideration the city's potential and its past record of giving.

It was pointed out that if the preliminary estimates were adopted without downward revision the goal would have totaled $123,649.

'Miracle' Needed to Prevent Record Traffic Toll in 1956

Chicago, July 31 (AP)—The National Safety Council said today it will take "almost a miracle" to head off a record high national traffic toll in 1956.

Ned H. Dearborn, council president, made the prediction on the basis of statistics showing that 18,120 persons have been killed in traffic accidents in the first six months of this year.

It set a new all-time high for the period overshadowing the previous mark of 17,320 for the first half of 1957. The traffic death toll for the first six months of 1956 represented a 10 per cent increase over a similar period last year.

The June traffic toll was 3,400, the largest number for a June month in history and 14 per cent higher than June a year ago. The previous June mark of 3,119 was set in 1952.

Dearborn said at the present rate the record traffic toll of 39,969 set in 1941, will be exceeded by some 2,000.

"It will take almost a miracle to head off a record high toll," Dearborn said.

"But this miracle can happen if the American public is sufficient-

Three Arrested For Plattekill Tavern Thefts

Three persons, including a 15-year-old juvenile, were arrested early this morning charged with burglarly third degree in the theft of whiskey and cash from Casa Perez, a Plattekill tavern.

Arrested were Francisco Gayas, 23, Plattekill, Tony Ruiz, 25, New York city, and the juvenile also of Plattekill.

Gayas and Ruiz were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Charles Demsky of Plattekill, waived examination and were held for the grand jury.

Constables Edmund Wager and Russell Carpenter of the town of Plattekill picked up the men at 1:30 a. m. after receiving a report of suspicious activity in the tavern.

They reported that the men gained entrance to the building by breaking a pane of glass in a window of the men's room.

Two of the men were seized inside the tavern and one outside, it was reported.

Eight quarts of whiskey were recovered. Police authorities were unable to say how much cash was taken. The tavern is owned by Daniel Perez of Plattekill.

More Power Is Asked on Docks

New York, July 31 (AP)—The Waterfront Commission of New York harbor is seeking additional powers.

The bistate agency yesterday asked Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey to foster legislation to widen its authority in policing the docks.

The commission said higher standards for pier clerks, checkers, timekeepers and port watchmen are among things needed. It urged licensing, rather than mere registration, for the clerks, checkers and timekeepers.

2 Youths Hurt In River Road Accident Monday

An 18-year-old Kingston youth was hospitalized and another youth suffered injuries in a freak accident late Monday night on the River road, Port Ewen, according to the Ulster county sheriff's office.

Reported in "fair" condition at Benedictine Hospital is Albert Woinoski, 18, of 70 Murray street. He reportedly suffered lacerations of the face and possible fracture of the skull.

Pat Sangaline, 16, of 21 Derenbacher street, was treated at the hospital for head injuries but was not admitted.

Undersheriff Clayton W. Vredenburg, who was notified at his home in West Hurley and got out of bed to go to the scene, said a 1939 sedan operated by Thomas Van Etten Jr., 16, of 11 Abbey street, was proceeding south on the River road when the driver mistook house lights for an oncoming car and pulled sharply to the right.

In doing so, he struck an unoccupied car parked off the side of the road, forcing it into a small building owned by Mrs. F. Walsh of Fort Lee. The building (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Decision Reserved On Trial Murder Retrial Due in September

Decision was reserved this morning by County Judge Schwartz of Dutchess county on the motion of defense counsel Henry Hirschberg to have the first degree arson-murder retrial of Wells (Ben) Van Steenburgh delayed from September 10 to the November county court term.

District Attorney Raymond C. Baratta, who opposed postponement of the trial, said the matter had been submitted without argument.

Hirschberg, 77 year old Newburgh attorney and a former Orange county district attorney, asked the delay because he is recuperating from a recent operation.

RETRIAL of the Van Steenburgh murder case was set on July 6 by Judge Schwartz for the September 10. Hirschberg objected to that day and moved today for a postponement to the November term.

Van Steenburgh, 21-year-old engineering student from Hyde Park, is accused of the murder of Mrs. Floyd H. Beresford, 38-year-old Staatsburg dog fancier and expert, last October 28. On the first trial which ended June 6, the jury disagreed.

DISTRICT Attorney Baratta on July 6 moved for the fixing of the trial date, after Mr. Hirschberg said he might not be ready for trial in September. At that time defense counsel said he would undergo an operation in St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, and would be recuperating at his home at least a month, after which he planned a vacation until the latter part of August. He asked the delay to November in order to have an opportunity to prepare the case for trial.

An application for release of the defendant from jail on bail was denied by Supreme Court Justice Eager on July 3.

July Rainfall Is Reported 4.72 Inches

July had 4.72 inches of rain, but this is not exceptional for the month the city engineer's office reported today.

The month, considered, at times, unseasonably cool, also had nine days of temperatures in the 90's, and the hottest day was July 1 with a temperature of 96 degrees.

It had some cool days too, and yesterday's low of 53 was the month's record. The low today at 5:30 a. m., was 54, and yesterday's high was only 78 at 4 p. m.

The highest temperature of the summer, to date, was the 101 recorded on June 14.

The month's rainfall brought the total, to date, this year to 24.28 inches, which is just one inch above the average for the period.

Distributors Ask Milk Order Voided

Albany, N. Y., July 31 (AP)—Syracuse milk distributors today asked that a state milk-marketing order for Onondaga county be voided on the ground that the state agriculture commissioner erred in promulgating the order.

Harry Polikoff of New York city, attorney for the Syracuse Milk Distributors Bargaining Agency Inc., contended Commissioner Daniel J. Carey barred a "great number" of farmers from voting in a referendum to determine whether they wanted a state order for their area.

Polikoff asked Justice Isadore Bookstein of State Supreme Court to "strike down" the order, scheduled to take effect tomorrow.

Polikoff said Carey did not wait for a determination from the current federal-state hearing on whether Onondaga county should be included in the New York milk-marketing area. He said that under the hearing the U. S. Department of Agriculture had assumed jurisdiction and the commissioner was "wrong for jumping in."

3 Nations Push Plan For Free Use of Canal President Is Sending Dulles to Talks After Two Discuss Waterway Action

London, July 31 (AP)—Some Royal Navy warship crews on leave in English ports were reported recalled today for readiness in case a show of force is ordered in the Suez crisis.

The Admiralty declined to confirm the report, which developed as British, French and American diplomatic leaders worked to build up steam behind the idea of an international control body to guarantee free movement of ships through the big ditch taken over by Egypt.

PRESIDENT Eisenhower made it known today, meanwhile, that he is sending Secretary of State Dulles to London to confer with Britain and France about Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal.

The White House announced this afternoon the President and Dulles had discussed Egypt's nationalization of the waterway.

An admiralty spokesman, asked about activity involving the aircraft carrier Ocean at Devonport, said "certain naval moves are being ordered."

Fresh talks developed between British and American navy authorities at Malta, the central Mediterranean naval base of British and allied forces. Rear Adm. N. K. Dietrich, commander of nine forces of the U. S. Atlantic fleet, arrived there by plane for two days of conferences.

THE INTERNATIONAL control plan under discussion by representatives of the western big three in London, however, is authoritatively reported to keep military measures in the background out of deference to American caution in the situation.

A British foreign office spokesman said two destroyers recently sold to Egypt would not be stopped from sailing tonight from the naval base at Portsmouth. He said they have already been paid for and turned over to the Egyptians and therefore are considered Egypt's property.

THIS FOLLOWED Prime Minister Eden's announcement to the House of Commons yesterday that British exports of war materials to Egypt had been halted. A Laborite deputy asked then if the order applied to the destroyers. Eden replied: "I don't know where the destroyers are, but I think the Royal Navy can look after them wherever they may be."

Under the 1869 Suez pact each of the nine nations signing it—including Britain and Russia—was given the right to station two warships at each end of the waterway. The pact guaranteed unrestricted passage for both merchant and war vessels, whether in peace or war.

EGYPT HAS promised that all will have free passage.

What the western powers want to do is strengthen the international status of the canal. A conference for this purpose is expected to be called.

Ceylonese Premier Solomon Bandaranaike has said the nations involved are those with shares in the old company, those whose ships use the canal and countries whose goods go through it. If a conference is called on this basis, Russia might be excluded on the ground that it does not come into any of these categories to any great extent.

Britain ordered her troopships carrying soldiers and their families to and from the Far East to steer clear of the Suez Canal and make the long trip around the Cape of Good Hope.

THIS WAS ANNOUNCED by the War Office. It did not give any reason for the order, which adds several thousand miles to the sea journey, but it appeared clear the action was (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Drafting of Steel Contract May Continue Through Week

New York, July 31 (AP)—The long and complicated job of drawing up nearly two score work contracts in the steel industry continued today at 650,000 striking employees were poised to return to work.

Some company and union spokesmen said yesterday they hoped that all the separate contracts between steel companies and the United Steelworkers could be completed by Thursday.

However, a spokesman for U. S. Steel, the nation's largest steel producer and the traditional pattern setter in the industry, said the contract drafting "could go on all week."

The spokesman said he had been in contact with negotiators for several other companies and there appeared to be "no major hitches" in working out contract details.

Agreement to end the month-old nationwide strike was reached by negotiators here last Friday.

Baratta Moves For Check on Sales to Minors

District Attorney Raymond C. Baratta of Dutchess county said today he intended to hold an "informal meeting" with the Dutchess county ABC Board to discuss various matters, probably including the sale of intoxicants to minors.

He said the sale of alcoholic beverages to minors was not an uncommon violation of the law and the meeting with Dutchess county ABC Board members was in the nature of an "informal meeting" to discuss various propositions.

Dutchess county has for some time had a 1 a. m. closing hour for bars and grills where alcoholic beverages are sold. The Ulster County ABC Board recently announced a 1 a. m. closing effective October 1, to replace the present 3 a. m. closing.

It has been alleged that the early closing in Dutchess county has been instrumental in bringing to Ulster county patrons from the earlier closing across the river. October first the closing hour will become the same in both counties.

Woolson Is Critical

Duluth, Minn., July 31 (AP)—Albert Woolson, 109, sole Union Army survivor of Civil War, still was on the critical list today at St. Luke's Hospital. The aged veteran slipped into a coma early Saturday and has been unconscious since. Physicians said it was an acute case of the lung congestion for which he had been hospitalized several times before this year. Woolson was being administered oxygen and was taking food intravenously. He entered the hospital last day shortly before Memorial Day.

To Continue Crusade
Tijuana, Mexico, July 31 (AP)—The publishing partner of slain Manuel Acosta Meza said today he would continue crusading against vice and corruption—even though "I do not like danger and I do not want to die."

Carlos Ortega sat with a gun beside his typewriter in the office of the weekly newspaper El Imparcial. He said three threats against his life, if he continues publishing the newspaper, had been made since Acosta Meza was shot down in front of his home Thursday night.

BUILDING AT RELAY POINT—Haliham Hill in the Sawkill area will be an important relay point in a network of "long distance telephone and television express routes," when details, including a 165-foot tower are completed.

The building shown here will house essential equipment. Work is being done by the Long Lines Department, American Telephone & Telegraph Co., John L. Vines, local central office chief said.

Four Ask Asylum

Ancona, Italy, July 31 (AP)—Four Yugoslav fishermen asked for political asylum in Italy today after forcing their captain at pistol point to land them in this Adriatic port. The four men from the fishing boat Cutin said they found conditions in Communist Yugoslavia intolerable. Port authorities let the captain and other crew members leave with their ship after the four would-be escapees disembarked. Six other Yugoslavs, including a woman, arrived yesterday at Pescara by motorboat. They had crossed the Adriatic to ask asylum. Officials indicated all the requests would be granted.

Treaty Talks Resume

Moscow, July 31 (AP)—Japan and the Soviet Union reopened talks today aimed at writing a World War 2 peace treaty. Peace talks between the two countries broke down last March in London over Japan's demand for the return of the southern Kurile islands. The Japanese delegation, headed by Foreign Minister Namoru Shigemitsu, met today at the ornate Spiridonovka Palace with Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov and other Russian officials. Shepilov shook hands warmly with Shigemitsu and each member of the Japanese group.

Radford, Chiang Confer

Taipei, Formosa, July 31 (AP)—Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, met here tonight with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. Radford arrived earlier from Bangkok for a survey of American military aid programs in Formosa and talks with Chinese Nationalist officials. Chiang and his associates are expected to ask for expanded military aid including late model jet planes to counter Chinese Red air strength in the Formosa strait.

Alexander, pastor of the St. James Methodist Church, will officiate. Burial will be held in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

Mrs. Juletta M. Egan
The funeral of Mrs. Juletta McGinnis Egan, who died Friday at her residence, 60 East Chester street, was held Monday at 9 a. m. from the late residence; thence to St. Mary's Church where at 9:30 a. m. a high Mass of requiem was offered by the Rev. George W. Moore of St. Mary's Church, Wappingers Falls. Seated in the sanctuary was the Rev. Martin F. Tully of St. Martin of Tours Church, Brooklyn, and the Rev. Edward L. Farrelly. Among the many friends who attended the Mass were a group of Benedictine sisters. Responses to the Mass were sung by the children of Theodore Riccobono, choirmaster-organist of friends called at the home and offered their condolences. The clergy who called and said prayers were the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, P.R. VF and the Rev. Austin V. Carey. Sunday evening St. Mary's Rosary Society led by their president, Mrs. Walter Phillips assembled at the home and assisted Father Farrelly in the recitation of the Rosary for their late past president. Saturday evening a delegation of Ulster County Women's Democratic Club, led by its president, Mrs. Lincoln Crosby, called at the home to pay their final respects for their late member. Many floral and spiritual bouquets were received. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery where the final absolution and blessing was given by Msgr. Drury and Father Farrelly. Bearers were Gerard Brophy, Donald Manning, John O'Rourke, Donald Bradley, Gerald Fitzgerald and John McGowan.

Body of Woman Still Sought In Hudson River

The body of a young woman Joseph Feraca of Rifton saw leap to her death early Monday morning from the George Washington bridge was still being sought today by river police.

Mr. Feraca, 40, a driver for Turco Dependable Milk Transportation, Morton boulevard, was proceeding across the bridge about 2 a. m. to make a delivery of milk in New York city when he saw the woman climbing over the railing.

He tried to stop the woman, whom he described as young and dark-haired, by blowing his horn, but she ignored him. He notified a bridge policeman a short distance from the girl and a motorcycle policeman was dispatched to the scene.

According to an Associated Press story today, however, the unidentified woman leaped from the middle of the bridge as the motorcycle sped over the span to restrain her.

A police launch began searching for the body, which was seen to float briefly and then sink in the Hudson river. Police said the woman jumped from the south railing near the Manhattan end of the bridge connecting New York and New Jersey. The roadway is about 260 feet above the river.

The motorcycle patrolman, Armond de Panics, tried to reach her in time after being advised by another policeman that a woman was acting strangely.

She was described as a brunette between 35 and 40 years old, wearing a brown dress or suit and brightly colored shoes. She threw her handbag over before she jumped.

McKeon Trial Costs $30,000 Up to Present

Parris Island, S. C., July 31 (AP)—The general courtmartial of S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon already has cost the government some $30,000, and the cost is mounting by an estimated $1,060.24 daily. The case is in its third week.

The figures are not official and do not include the cost of witnesses or expenses shouldered by McKeon's civilian defense attorneys.

THE DEFENSE is being handled by Emile Zola Berman, a New York city lawyer who says he is not charging the 31-year-old Worcester, Mass., Marine. Berman also has taken on the expense of contacting ex-Marines across the nation who are willing to testify to recruit marches similar to the one McKeon led.

Berman said he has "no idea what the total cost will be."

The prosecution sent 36 witnesses to the stand before it ended its case last Thursday. All were military personnel stationed here.

Military witnesses, in addition to their regular pay, draw per diem allowances if they come from another base. Officers get $6 a day and enlisted men $1.50. Both get five cents a mile travel expenses.

CIVILIAN WITNESSES get $9 a day plus the five-cent travel allowance. The defense already has asked for 18 to testify, most from the northeast.

Included in the estimated cost to the government is $285.44 a day in salaries and allowances for the seven-man court, $230 a day for the military defense counsel and the prosecution and $339.28 a day for miscellaneous personnel attached to the court—public information officials, court recorders and the like.

COMPLETES COURSE AT GE—Frank Edward Warren, 19 Len Court, graduate of Kingston High School, 1952, has completed a four-year apprenticeship course in design drafting at the General Electric Company's Schenectady plant. Among the subjects, with G-E engineer instructors, were electronics, descriptive geometry, strength of materials, metallurgy, heat, hydraulics and kinematics. The G-E photo shows Frank receiving a graduating emblem from Supervisor Burgess Stiles. It came with his diploma. Frank is employed in drafting parts for turbine generating units, in the large steam turbine generator building, the largest such structure in the world.

The law officer—a Navy captain—and the Marine major assisting him draw $93.36 daily.

A grammar school on this sprawling base was converted into a courthouse at a cost of $1,500 for minor construction and $1,050 for supplies.

Survivors of Platoon 71—the outfit which marched into the creek, are costing $122 a day to keep them handy for the trial.

TB Epidemic In Ontario

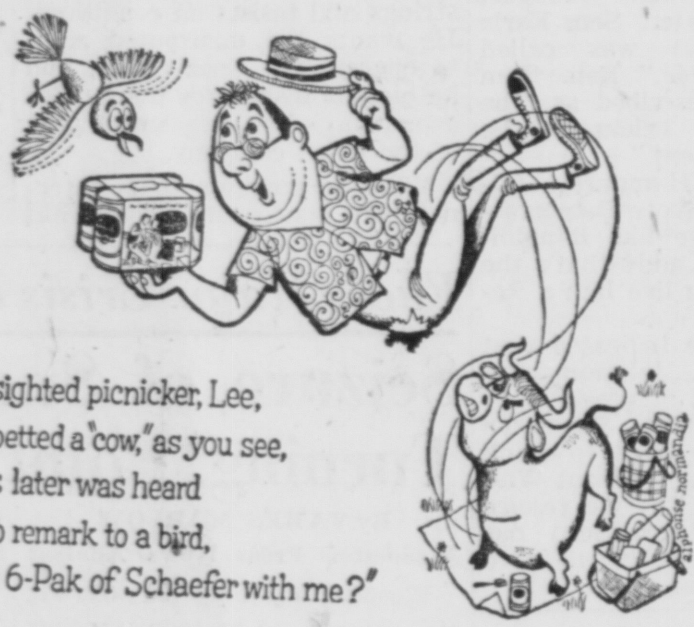

At a recent meeting of the American Academy of Tuberculosis Physicians in Chicago, Dr. Stephan Grzybowski, of the Toronto Department of Health cited a tuberculosis epidemic involving 19 cases of active disease in a town in northern Ontario. A relatively high proportion of the patients was in the 15 to 24 year old group. Dr.

Grzybowski attributed the epidemic to the development of a population which is tuberculin negative and which has no acquired resistance.

For many years, he said, it has been known that tuberculin negative persons are more than usually susceptible to tuberculosis. To combat this the BCG Vaccine was developed and is being used on student nurses, medical students and other groups of individuals who are expected to be exposed to tuberculosis. However, the protection afforded by the vaccine is not great enough to warrant its use for the general population. We are therefore faced with the situation where an increasing proportion of the population is tuberculin negative and a larger number of patients with active tuberculosis are treated at home, sometimes becoming non-infectious. The situation calls for increased caution and a better control of the non-hospitalized patient with active tuberculosis.

Child Drowns in Lake

Peekskill, N. Y., July 31 (AP)—Jessica Yacknes, 7, of (1262 49th street) Brooklyn, was found drowned last night in an artificial lake at a vacation resort at Golden's Bridge, police reported.

A nearsighted picnicker, Lee,
Who petted a 'cow' as you see,
Seconds later was heard
To remark to a bird,
"Share my 6-Pak of Schaefer with me?"

To clear-sighted picnickers: Schaefer is real beer—real in true beer character, real in the wonderful flavor you want but don't always find. On your next picnic, bring it along in the new, colorful 6-Paks.

For real enjoyment—real beer!

Look for Schaefer in the new 6-Paks!

POLITE DRIVING

Our streets and highways would be much safer, and the driving we do would be much more pleasant, if all drivers were to apply the same basic rules of courtesy that apply in the rest of living.

Unfortunately a great deal of rudeness is evidenced by drivers. A woman who is ordinarily courteous and lady-like may behave with an utter lack of consideration for other drivers; she may take more than her share of the road even though she would never think of behaving that way in a shop or on the sidewalk.

Or a man who tips his hat to ladies, gives up his seat to them on buses, will sound his horn like an angry elephant at the woman who fails to start quickly enough when the light changes.

The business of good manners in daily living is something that has developed through the ages. Courtesy is a kind of lubricant for the wheels of social relationships. Things go smoother at the dinner table, on the way down halls, in elevators and in our jobs, because we observe certain conventions of polite behavior.

Why not apply this same sense of courtesy and consideration to driving? There will be fewer accidents if we do, and the business of driving, instead of being a tense chore, may be a reasonably pleasant pursuit.

"BETTER, OR ELSE—"

"The Indians will do better than this, or else." This dire threat is reported to have been sounded by Ignatius O'Shaughnessy, the oil man who recently bought the Cleveland American League baseball team, and is dissatisfied with recent achievements.

As a rich man, he knows that money can do many things, and thinks that if it fails, it is only because enough has not been poured in. This threat implies that if no improvement comes soon, there will be a new manager and new players.

He can get a new and possibly better manager, but where does he plan to get the players? The stars on other teams are not for sale, as he may be astonished to find out. The only recourse is to develop material from minor league clubs owned by Cleveland. Some already are Cleveland possessions, but fewer than those owned by the ever successful New York Yankees. To buy more minor league teams will take time, as well as money.

Some other teams, like the Boston Red Sox, have wealthy owners who have spent freely for years. They have never shown a great deal for all their spending. If O'Shaughnessy finds out why, he will be well on his way to a baseball education.

DEBT OF GRATITUDE

A lot of nasty things have been said about the United Nations. It has been charged with failure to take any effective action to reduce world tensions.

But the United Nations, after a decade of concern with the myriad problems that plague humankind, stands high in the estimation of most men of goodwill. One of the finest tributes to its achievement has just come from President Eisenhower in his annual report to Congress.

The United Nations, said Mr. Eisenhower, is "becoming increasingly vital and effective in man's search for peace." As long as that can truthfully be said of this greatest cooperative effort yet made by humanity, men of all nations will owe it a debt of gratitude.

BIGGEST GROWTH

The National Industrial Conference Board points out that while everything about this country has grown enormously in the last 40 years, the growth and cost of government have grown most.

Since 1922, for example, our national income has gone up 422 per cent. But the total tax burden has jumped more than twice as much—968 per cent. And the figure would be higher still if the annual $11 billion in social security levies were included.

This clearly shows why cutting the cost

THE TRIALS OF HAROLD STASSEN

All men in public life suffer from frustrations and disappointments. The connotations of affairs, the course of events, the interplay of imponderables seem to dominate situations to the annoyance of those who have devoted their lives to what they regard as a public service.

Harold Stassen has the reputation of being an able administrator of a public office, which is not an ignominious item as there are not too many men of real managerial ability in public life. Although only 49 years of age, he has been Governor of the State of Minnesota, President of the University of Pennsylvania, a permanent candidate for the Republican nomination for the Presidency of the United States, and during the Eisenhower Administration, he has been in charge of the give-away program and is now the President's Secretary of Peace, in charge of disarmament.

There can be no question but that Stassen's career has been notable. But he is possessed of one character defect that places him in an awkward position vis-a-vis other Republicans. That is his obsession that he ought to be President of the United States.

Certainly, there can be no objection to any man aspiring to the Presidency. All boys used to be told by doting parents that the greatness of America consisted in the right of any man to become President, no matter what a dope he might grow up to be. That was said to give the child self-confidence and to instill in him patriotic ideals. Many a mother who found herself big with child while abroad rushed back to the United States to give birth to her son on American soil, only to discover that she gave birth to a girl or that, if a son, he grew up to be a foot-ball player with no Presidential ambitions at all. Life is full of surprises.

Harold Stassen, however, was different. Never for a moment did he lose the ambition to be President or the conviction that he was just the guy for the job. He has always had an attraction for youth, probably because he has always been so young-looking, so boyish, in appearance. When Stassen, in 1940, realized that he could not get the nomination for himself, he turned his youthful strength over to Willkie and gained some stature by his sacrifice, because the Eastern businessmen who were then in control of the Republican Party, looked favorably upon Stassen.

However, Tom Dewey and Bob Taft arose to plague Stassen and to reduce his aspirations and when they had exhausted each other, Dwight D. Eisenhower appeared on the scene and took over. Stassen became an Eisenhower man and was duly rewarded by being given Paul Hoffman's job as almoner of the United States, giving away its largesse to all nations with a free and generous hand that was so free and so generous that Congress voted him out of office.

Eisenhower then took Stassen into the White House where he was made an assistant to the President, a Secretary of Peace, in charge of universal disarmament. As such negotiations are the special province of the State Department, Stassen came into conflict not only with John Foster Dulles but with all the other persons in the White House who were dealing with foreign policy. Those who complained to President Eisenhower that Stassen treads heavily upon the toes of all others were told that Harold was a great liberal and that the Republicans needed a great liberal.

When the President became ill, some Republicans aspired to be Vice President to replace Richard Nixon. Among these was Harold Stassen. There were so many aspirants and they all gave the impression of waiting on Ike's grave even before he died that it was inevitable that the President would solve the problem by keeping the 1952 Ike and Dick ticket.

So Stassen organized his young Republican contingents in 16 states to put pressure on Eisenhower. He was duly warned that his activities were not pleasing to the President, whereupon he suggested the name of Christian Herter, knowing, as everybody in political life must know, that Herter cannot and, for his health, should not take the job. It was a smart way to start an argument in the hope that Stassen would get it as a compromise, but it was too smart and too palpable and too desperate.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.
CHANGES IN HEART RATE AND RHYTHM

The most common cardiovascular (heart and blood vessel) reactions during life stress are changes in the heart rate and rhythm. The tachycardia (rapid heart beat) associated with acute fear is widely known. However, it is less commonly recognized that a persistent increase in heart rate to 100 beats or more per minute (normal is 72 per minute) is usual during sustained anxiety or tension.

Paroxysmal tachycardia (rapid heart beat coming on in spasms) commonly occurs in settings of life stress. Attacks of paroxysmal tachycardia have been brought on by experimentally creating conditions that severely disturb the patient. Such attack may cease when the stressful experience is over. The load carried by the cardiovascular system is offset by bed rest. However, patients with coronary occlusion may offset any beneficial effects of bed rest by becoming so anxious about the implications of their disease that they increase the heart rate and heart work.

Careful observation of the course of essential (having no obvious cause) hypertension (high blood pressure) establishes that the onset, increase and decrease of symptoms of the illness are closely related to important events and attitudes in the life of the patient. Those who have dealt with hypertensive patients have repeatedly observed that these persons are highly charged with hostility which they have great difficulty in expressing. In the laboratory, it is not at all difficult to demonstrate a rise in blood pressure of a patient who has high blood pressure during discussion of disturbing events in his life.

There is a great deal more that can be said on this subject, but it is clear that there is no aspect of cardiovascular disorders which has not been shown to be affected by reactions to upsetting life experiences. It is not possible for the physician to say to himself that there are some illnesses which are clearly related to life and stress and strain and others which are not. Even such a group of symptoms as acute rheumatic fever, with its known relation to streptococcal infection of nose and throat is influenced by stressful interpersonal social situations. Children with rheumatic fever exposed to difficult life conditions have a higher than average rate of further attacks.

We are already at the stage where the physician must say to himself, "What part does the patient's reaction to his life situation play in the disease with which I am confronted?" The physician must learn how to obtain from the patient a description of his present life situation, feelings and attitudes. He must learn from experience when to listen passively and sympathetically and when to attempt to alter the patient's attitudes. A physician concerned with the care and treatment of patients with cardiovascular disease cannot understand and treat them effectively without such interest, knowledge and experience.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington — (NEA) — Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson was criticized in the 1952 campaign for too many wisecracks. He has curbed his sense of humor somewhat this year. But he still can't resist the temptation to throw in a fast line here or there.

Some of his gaglines of 1956 are: "The steady worsening of our world position from Iceland to Japan is not concealed by all the frantic trips of our misguided missile, the secretary of state."

"Secretary Dulles apparently has nothing to offer (Latin America) except, perhaps, a visit."

"Although the President's admiration for him is boundless, it is rumored, I hear, that for some reason he is going to dump his beloved vice president who has been captain of the team—at least the offensive team."

"It takes more than golf scores to inspire peoples with a common will to struggle for a better, safer world."

HOWARD PYLE of Arizona, the President's special assistant for White House relations with state and local governments, recently gave assurances there would be no reprisals against Republicans for supporting any other candidates than Eisenhower and Nixon.

When members of the "Eisenhower First, Stassen Second" organization reported to Washington that state and local GOP leaders were trying to stop their movement, the complaints were turned over to Pyle for answer. He replied that President Eisenhower felt very strongly in favor of anyone in the party supporting whomever he chose, without fear of intimidation.

cians have been trying to build up early opposition to Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) as a vice-presidential possibility on the basis of his farm legislation votes. This is the record:

There were three key votes on amendments to the first farm bill, passed by the Senate and vetoed by the President.

On an amendment by Sen. Clinton Anderson (D-N.Mex.) against restoration of 90 per cent price supports on basic commodities, Kennedy voted with Anderson to retain flexible price supports.

On a second amendment by Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) to retain 90 per cent price supports for small farmers, keep flexible supports for middle income bracket farmers and abolish price supports for big farmers, Kennedy voted with Humphrey for the amendment.

A third amendment was backed jointly by Sens. Humphrey and Anderson. It would have set aside government surpluses acquired since 1953 by the Republican administration. This would have removed them from consideration in calculating price support levels. Kennedy again voted with Anderson and Humphrey. Its effect would have been to raise parity price levels by about three points, or from 85 to 88 per cent.

On final passage, Kennedy voted for both the first, Democratic congressional bill and the second, Eisenhower administration soil bank bill which is now law.

It is explained that Kennedy's votes were all consistent with the interests of Massachusetts farmers. They are largely small poultry and dairy farmers. When feed grain prices go up, as under high price supports, they're hurt. Kennedy nevertheless voted to raise support prices for small farmers, though he was against 90 per cent support on basics.

PRIZE for the political understatement of the 1956 campaign thus far goes to Gov. Averell Harriman (D-N.Y.). Speaking at the $100-a-plate dinner honoring Sen. Walter George (D-Ga.), Harriman began with, "I can't help but be serious this evening."

But Harriman did raise one laugh when he referred to Robert J. Donovan's book, "Eisenhower: The Inside Story," as "Inside Eisenhower."

THERE WERE MORE lavish bouquets tossed around at the testimonial for Sen. George than are even customary at most political society back scratchings.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.), the toastmaster, called Gov. Frank Clement (D-Tenn.), the party's convention keynoter, "the greatest orator since William Jennings Bryan."

Sen. Francis Green (D-RI) was introduced as "youngest man in the Senate." Sen. Earle Clements (D-Ky) was called "Mr. Indispensable." Sen. Tom Hennings was described as "the man who threw bricks at the Bricker amendment."

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) said, "We vote Democratic so we can live like Republicans—and may I add—that's the only way you can live like a Republican."

Senator George indicated that he thought Sen. Johnson himself should be U. S. president. And ex-Gov. Adlai Stevenson said, "It will be hard to think of the U. S. Senate without Walter George. . . . But we rejoice that the administration has called on Sen. George to save our Atlantic alliance."

Russia Seen as Instigator In Nasser's Seizure of Suez

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, July 31—Again, as in the 1930s, the free nations are menaced by an unscrupulous aggressor—and again the question before the whole world is whether softness, appeasement and timidity will once more bring worse consequences.

For Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal isn't an isolated episode. It is part of the "cold war." On what Britain and America and France do now depends the respect in which they will be held by Khrushchev and Tito and Nehru and Chou En-lai.

Just as the League of Nations faltered when Mussolini, prompted by Hitler, seized Ethiopia, so today the United Nations is unable to make its military potential felt because it faltered in Korea and Indochina in submitting to ignominious armistice agreements that have since been torn to pieces by the enemy.

ONLY THE FIRMNESS and resoluteness of the major powers of the West, acting in unison to repel unlawful seizure of their property, can today assure the retention by the West of the strategic gateway from the Mediterranean to the Indian Ocean. It's a military move which Nasser has made—instigated by the Soviet dictators.

There are the usual protestations of innocence by the men in Moscow, and there is the customary call for "negotiations," amid righteous comments from Communist sources that war must be prevented. But it all adds up to the simple fact that Nasser himself has confessed that Russia—and not just Czechoslovakia—supplied him with arms to threaten Israel and to stir up Arab hostility to the West. Nasser even boasts that he today has the support of Yugoslavia's Tito. India's Nehru and the Red China gangsters, Nasser, in defiance of the resolution of the United Nations against an aggressor government in China, nevertheless granted recognition to that government.

Egypt is the only member of the U. N. to recognize Red China since the outbreak of the Korean war. Peking is now applauding Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal.

IT'S ALL A PART of the effort to bluff the West, and undoubtedly the rise of Communist influence and intrigue in Cairo is back of Nasser's move to line up the whole Arab world against the West.

Ironically, just a few days ago Nasser was echoing the cry of Nehru and of some of those misguided folks inside America who insist that American taxpayers' money must be given "without strings attached." But now it is Nasser who imposes the strings and insists on conditions. He wants the undisputed right to operate the Suez Canal, and he handily disregards the British ownership of a substantial part of the canal company.

What it amounts to is international blackmail. Nasser has demanding a large part of the $1,200,000,000 needed to build the Aswan Dam and, when he is refused it, he threatens British and French property owners with confiscation and the American military position in the Middle East with trouble. He menaces the whole transportation of oil products from the Near East to Europe.

CERTAINLY NO government in the West can ever trust Nasser again. No agreement with him on the Aswan Dam or anything else would ever be regarded as worth the paper it is written on. How fortunate it is that the Western nations discovered Nasser's true colors before they became involved in any financial transactions with him of a major kind!

The key to the future is in one word used by Prime Minister Eden in addressing the House of Commons on Monday. He said Britain could entrust the future of the Suez Canal only to an "unfettered" nation. This means that he regards Egypt as a "fettered" nation today. It is "fettered" by a dictator's power over the Egyptian people, whose balloting Nasser controls as Hitler did in Germany. Egypt is "fettered" also by the Communist influence to which Nasser has been beholden right along.

THE TALK emanating from Moscow about "internationalizing" the Suez Canal is a mere euphemism. Naturally, Soviet Russia wants a veto in what shall be done in the Suez Canal area. It's of military importance to her. But the only control that would be safe for the West would be under an international plan that keeps the canal in private hands—that is, the stockholders in free countries and, of course, with Egyptian participation. The precedent of putting an important seaway into the hands of both East and West governments can only lead to political intrigue.

There isn't any objection to the continued management of the Suez by an Egyptian company, as has been the case for many years. The trouble isn't in the problem of ownership but in the kind of government that rules in Cairo. Only under a free government there can the continued operation of the canal be assured for transportation and political purposes. Until a free government arises in Egypt—and that is what is meant by an "unfettered" country—there can be no safety for ships that seek passage through the Suez Canal.

The major powers may have a military demonstration to secure respect for their rights—and to protect themselves against giving a base to Soviet Russia at the eastern end of the Mediterranean. It's military as well as political crisis that the world faces—and if the West falters again, it could mean a chain of events which would again encourage the aggressor to take chances and bring on a world war.

Faces Major Crisis of Life

Seizure of Suez May Prove Turning Point for Nasser

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

Washington, July 31 (AP)—It still remains to be seen whether the United States handled Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser well or shrewdly. He's not a simple man. He's an emotional man, a gambler and a conspirator.

This army colonel, a would-be assassin in his earlier days when he sought to overthrow the hated kingship and remake Egypt, finally bounced King Farouk, bloodlessly, in 1952. He stayed in the background when he did it.

NOW HE'S in a tight spot, trying to make good. He's trying to prove his right to be leader of Egypt and of the Arab world and to shepherd his people out of illiteracy and poverty and into the 20th Century.

He seems to be striking out wildly now. His emotionalism burst through last week. For four days he boiled in silence over the American and British refusal to lend him money to build a dam which backward Egypt sorely needs.

Then he spat out: "May you choke to death on your own hate." The West felt he had been playing too much footsy with the Russians, taunting the West, trying to play it off against the Reds, letting both bid for his favor.

HE ARGUES HE tries to make the best deal for Egypt that he can, in arms and money. To anyone of Nasser's intensity what he considers a hurt to Egypt may seem like an act of hate.

Or it may be simply that any act of frustration which jeopardizes his personal power is too hateful to be borne. At any rate he struck back—perhaps in blind rage—by seizing the Suez Canal.

The British and French reacted strongly. But how far they are willing to go to loosen his grip on the canal is still to be seen. The United States may get involved. This is probably a turning point, up or down, for Nasser.

He is not a polished orator. Action may be his only resort to win the devotion of his own people. Apparently he doesn't have it, or didn't until he seized the canal, after four years in power.

WHEN NASSER threw out Farouk, he worked out of sight as part of a group of army officers who led the revolt and used Maj. Gen. Mohamed Naguib as front man. Nasser finally pushed Naguib aside.

The Egyptians put Nasser strictly on his own—as he asked—last June by electing him president. That didn't mean he had their devotion. On July 7 Wilton Wynn, Associated Press reporter, wrote from Cairo.

"Nasser has become the leader of the Arab world. Now he faces the crisis of his life as he tackles the problem of winning over one set of people who have remained indifferent toward him—his own Egyptian people."

IT MAY BE that the Egyptians, who had so many masters so long, think he can't last simply because he is an Egyptian. John Gunther, who visited Egypt before writing his most recent book, "Inside Africa," said:

"Egyptians are likely to have a marked sensitiveness and inferiority about their background, if a man rises to be something out of the ordinary, it is assumed as a matter of course that he must be a foreigner."

THE EGYPTIANS were untried under foreign rule from 525 B.C. to 1936 when the British withdrew. The memory of it is poison to Nasser. Not long ago he recalled with bitterness that Egypt, earliest empire of the ancient world, had been occupied by Persians, Macedonians, Romans, Turks, French and British.

He said "Egyptians who sowed the first seeds of civilization did not find anything to harvest but poverty and sickness." It was the West which most recently dominated Egypt. It is understandable his aides say he distrusts the West.

THERE IS VAST illiteracy in Egypt's 22 million people squeezed into a narrow belt of their country which has 386,000 square miles, only 5 per cent of which is arable.

Nasser has ruled by force. If he loses, he loses everything. If he wins, he may dominate the Arab world and lead it under the wing of Russia. At this point the West doesn't know whether it faces major disaster: Loss of the Middle East.

President Signs Health Measure

Gettysburg, Pa., July 31 (AP)—President Eisenhower Monday signed a bill authorizing a three-year, 90 million dollar program of federal grants for help in construction of health research facilities by public and non-profit institutions.

The President approved the measure at his farm home here. He called it "an important step forward" in efforts to eliminate disease and disability, but added the program voted by Congress

"is deficient in two important respects."

EXPLAINING, Eisenhower said in a statement: "It fails to provide assistance, as recommended by the administration, for construction of facilities for the training of medical scientists, and the amounts authorized are inadequate in the light of these needs."

The President recalled that in his January State of the Union Message he asked for 250 million dollars for a five-year program of federal assistance in construction of research and teaching facilities for schools of medicine, Osteopathy, public health, dentistry and other research institutions.

THE BILL PASSED by Congress, Eisenhower noted, is for research facilities only.

The President said the administration proposal was for "an integrated program embracing all of the essential facilities required by medical, dental and public health schools." He added:

"These professional schools are now providing practically all of the skilled scientific and professional talent, for which there is an increasing demand, to maintain and improve the health of the nation."

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON

Governor Harriman is now an active candidate for the Presidency. He has stated: "President Eisenhower has surrendered the country to big business."

Governor, you're hooked with big business. Your dad made possible your big fortune in big business. I also recall you were Chairman of the Union Pacific Railroad for 14 years, and Chairman of the Illinois Central Executive Committee for 31 years. They have prospered, as all others, under "Ike's" Administration.

You, F.D.R. and Harry Truman were for small business. As ex-president Fairless, of the U. S. Steel Corporation, has stated: "You cannot strengthen one by weakening the other; you cannot add to the stature of a dwarf by cutting off the legs of a giant."

"American can no more survive and grow without big business than it can without small business. Every fact proves the two are interdependent."

"The American industrial machine is a unit, like an automobile, made of big parts and little parts."

"Each part does its own particular job and all are intricately fitted together. You may think it would be fun to sort them all into neat piles according to size to please the statisticians."

"You could even pass a law declaring all parts must be the same size; the theorists would be delighted, but when you get through, your automobile won't run—and neither will American industry."

Governor Harriman, are you campaigning for small business for votes?

the second trick, and East had to make a key play. The old rule for this situation says "Third hand high," but East was clever enough to play a low trump instead of the jack.

Dummy's eight of hearts held the trick, and South continued by cashing the top clubs. When he next led a low club and ruffed with dummy's nine of hearts, East could over-ruff with the jack of hearts and return another trump.

This left only one trump in the dummy, and South could ruff either a club or a diamond, but not both. When the smoke cleared, South was down one.

Declarer could have made his contract by very careful play in spite of the good defense. (He should have gone after a diamond ruff in dummy, later ruffing a club with the ace of trumps.) But the defense gave South a chance to go wrong.

The hand would have been easy if East had foolishly put up the jack of hearts at the second trick. South could ruff clubs in the dummy without fearing an over-ruff, and almost any line of play would bring in ten tricks.

Ike Called Greatest

Memphis, Tenn., July 31 (AP)—A $45,000 postoffice was dedicated here Sunday to a Memphis Negro who said the building is "not a monument to me" but to President Eisenhower, "the greatest President since Abraham Lincoln." About 3,000 spectators turned out for the dedication of the George W. Lee post-office, named for the 60-year-old Republican leader. A political power among Memphis Negroes, Lee is manager of a life insurance company and a member of the company's board of directors. He is the author of several books, including a one-time best-seller, "Beale Street, Where the Blues Began." He was an army lieutenant in World War I.

Forage Meetings Impress Farmers

Area farmers were reportedly much impressed with forage "clinics" held last week in the New Paltz, Stone Ridge and Kerhonkson sections — particularly with certain varieties of forage described as unusually "vigorous."

GOOD TURNOUTS were reported at twilight meetings at the farms of John and William Schreiber, New Paltz, Robert Kelder, Stone Ridge, and Philip Davis, Kerhonkson.

Robert D. Guzewich, associate county agricultural agent, said the farmers visited plots of forage at each of the farms. They were impressed by the fact that the European type of birdfoot trefoil was quite vigorous in its growth and stood erect like a true hay plant. In contrast, New York State Empire trefoil is low-growing and more like a pasture plant in that it is short, Mr. Guzewich pointed out.

The farmers were also keenly aware of the fact that a new type of Pennscoot clover was extremely vigorous. Previous experience indicates that this type of clover might survive for two or three years, in contrast to common Red Clover which will produce a two-year crop at best.

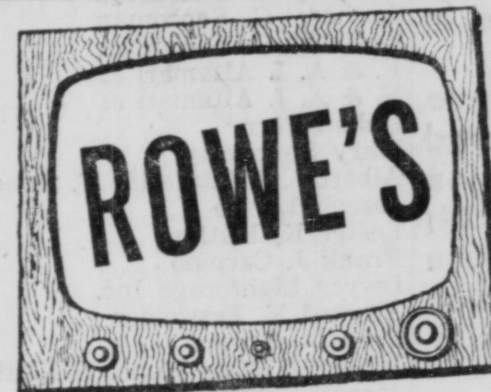

ALSO NOTED was the vigorous growth of Dupuits, a French variety, in a plot on the Davis farm. Mr. Davis had Dupuits alfalfa which had grown 36 inches high in 30 days.

Dupuits, Narragansett and Atlantic looked best, Mr. Guzewich said.

It was also noted that vernal alfalfa exhibited less leaf spot disease and off-color than other bacterial wilt-resistant alfalfa, such as the Ranger. Farmers indicated they would like to view these varieties again within a year or so to study growth patterns.

You can be years ahead right now!

(It's a great time to buy a Buick!)

WANT TO KNOW how to beat the calendar?

Then come drive a 1956 Buick—and get something you'll get nowhere else.

It's a new kind of blazing performance that breaks with the past and brings you today what other cars may offer in the future.

Only Buick, of all the world's automobiles, has Variable Pitch Dynaflo®—the one transmission which takes its cue from the variable pitch propellers of modern aircraft.

Only here can you switch the pitch by flooring the pedal for a soaring burst of full power when safety demands it.

AIRCONDITIONING at a COOL NEW LOW PRICE
It cools, filters, dehumidifies. Get 4-Season Comfort in your new Buick with genuine FRIGIDAIRE CONDITIONING

And only here can you have such years-ahead performance with the smart new beauty of Buick's sweep-ahead styling—with the new sweetness of Buick's great new ride—with the superb new surety of Buick's precise new handling.

What does this add up to for you? Just this: You couldn't pick a better time than right now to make a great buy on this great Buick. Your car is at its peak. And our prices are sweet enough to help keep Buick outselling all other cars in America except two.

So drop in on us soon—and we'll start things rolling for you in a big way.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Listed below is the proposed list of assessments, computed at 36% of the appraised value, as determined under the recently completed revaluation program. Taxpayers may determine the appraised value by multiplying the assessed value by 2.77.

Every effort has been made to maintain a uniform standard of value on all properties in order to correct the gross inequalities which have existed in the tax roll heretofore.

We respectfully request all taxpayers to give earnest consideration and a fair examination to the results of this program. While the revaluation program was intended solely to equalize all values, it has, nevertheless, resulted in a substantial overall increase in the assessment roll. This will result in a corresponding decrease in the tax rate, subject to budgetary changes.

Any person who has good reason to believe that his property has been inequitably assessed and who wishes to obtain further information prior to Grievance Day, which will be August 14, 1956, may make an appointment for this purpose by calling the Assessor's Office, tel. 1993. Such requests for appointments should be made prior to August 8, 1956.

Miniature Train Wreck Sends Six People to Hospital

Schenectady, N. Y., July 30 (P) —Six of 21 persons injured in the derailment of a miniature train at an amusement park yesterday were still hospitalized today.

There were no serious injuries reported among the 13 children and eight adults who required treatment after they were thrown from cars of the train at Amity Kiddies Park.

Four of those hospitalized were children. Others hurt were discharged after treatment at St. Clare's and Ellis Hospitals.

Police said a crossbar on one of the three passenger cars of the train, which was carrying 36 passengers, apparently had broken and dug into a tie. Two of the cars toppled over on their sides, spilling riders.

A park spokesman said the train had a top speed of 10 miles an hour but had slowed just before the accident to make a turn.

Those hospitalized included Louis Ahl, 3, of Schenectady, one of 15 members of one family on the train. Mrs. Dora Ahl of Schenectady, said her two sons, two daughters and 11 grandchildren were passengers. Mrs. Ahl said she was standing by the track waving to them when the accident occurred. Others hospitalized at St. Clare's were Robert Desrochers, 6, and Frank Sisto, 41, both of Schenectady; Richard Nethaway, 3, of Howes Cave; and Mrs. Minnie Pitt, 33, and Patricia Pitt, 9, of Schoharie.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Adolescent Agony

The adolescent peers into the mirror anxiously. Is it too dreadful? Will people notice? Does he dare ask a girl to the dance? Does she dare wear that pretty off-the-shoulder dress?

This is "carefree youth" suffering from acne. At the very time of life when the desire for popularity is greatest, the adolescent finds himself disfigured with skin blemishes. The situation can be magnified into real tragedy. Feeling like a sort of leper from whom others shrink, the youngster may draw back from the world he really yearns to be a part of.

Parents can help or harm in this situation. It does no good to blame the youngster for withdrawing, to urge him into social and school activities, to assure him that "he'll grow out of it." Action must be taken. Acne and the scars which may result can seriously disturb a boy's or girl's mental health.

Something can be done about acne. With patience and persistence, the average case can be cleared up in about three months. Even those who have pitted scars can now be assured that in most cases these blemishes can be removed.

The doctor's help is needed. He will probably lay down rules for general hygiene; outdoor exercise, rest, sleep, avoidance of certain foods. He may prescribe a lotion or salve. Severe cases of scarring have been cleared up by new methods of skin abrasion.

When something can be done about acne, it is pitiful to see so many adolescents suffer from their pimples. Parents should not shrug off acne as a minor ailment that time will heal. Serious personality disturbances can develop. Parents can help their adolescents with encouragement and affection, and by seeing to it that they get medical attention.

Mocking Wind Storm

By FRANK TRIPP

This is a survivor's report of ten seconds at the core of a twister, as we call them along Seneca Lake. A mocking and vicious one came our way this July 1st, ending an oppressively hot day.

I had a ringside seat, right in our living room. Though trained as a reporter, it was over so quickly that I didn't see it happen; can't adequately describe its horrifying noise and tumult. Actually, I only felt it.

It was like a vacuum at its center; so encompassing and sudden that there was no time to be frightened, to comprehend or observe its action before all was calm darkness. Ten seconds is about right for the duration of its terror.

More than ever before, I now understand why people nearest to calamities so often give unreliable reports of them. Nevertheless I swear to the fantastic contradictions in this report, though seemingly impossible.

THERE WAS NO warning. The demon sneaked over the hill behind us, down Big Stream, swiftly and almost silently until it compressed in the gorge, then emerged to cross Glenora Point into the lake, whipping up a waterspout and whirlwind of tree limbs, boards, leaves and litter.

The heartbreaking havoc that it wrought throughout the pretty shaded grounds of Little Glenora destroyed years of pains and husbandry. Shrubbery, plants and some 20 trees half a century old, and older, were stripped of limbs and ruined, many unrooted; sheltering friends that money and a whole generation cannot replace.

LIKE A GIANT vandal, bent upon destruction for the fun of it, the twister seemed aimed at things of beauty; then whirled limbs into buildings, tore off roofs, blew down chimneys, power lines, aerials; dove through windows, crashed boats upon the beach, yet harmed no human.

When dawn came we found strange sights, unbelievable tricks that the twister had played to mock man's ingenuity. Through the window it spread broken glass, twigs and leaves over beds and floor but didn't budge lamps, vases or so much as rumple dresser covers.

In a bathroom it left everything undisturbed, but unrolled eight yards of toilet paper and whipped it about the room. It moved a sizable rug from one room to another and spread it right side up, unharmed.

IN THE ROOM where we sat, an extra heavy trans-oceanic radio was blown through a window, crashed bottom up on the porch floor, and five books standing on end on the shelf beside it were not moved a fraction of an inch.

A large glass insert in a combination outside door, screwed securely into the frame, was blown flat upon the concrete entrance and not a pane of glass even cracked, nor was the door unlatched or damaged.

On a narrow window sill where the wind came through to blow out the door, serenely survived two vases of flowers.

All was so instantaneous that until the last we did not know of our greatest loss, though sitting 20 feet from it; the jokester's masterpiece, a feat of engineering that humans could not have accomplished in many days, if ever.

TWIN MAPLES with trunks 22 inches in diameter, towering over the roof and enlacing feed wires, were crashed to the ground, uprooted. Our most needed shade is gone, can never be replaced in our day.

Both trees fell parallel to the house, sweeping down the front like huge paint brushes. Falling

Area Winners Are Named Finalists For Grand Prize

Two Kingston area residents were named preliminary winners in the Sealy $500,000 Posturepedic contest according to an announcement by Sealy, Inc., Chicago, manufacturers of mattresses and convertible sleep furniture.

They are John B. Hudson of 23 John street and Frances Barbara Grafe of 3 Main street, Bloomington. Mr. Hudson entered through the Standard Furniture Company of 267 Fair street and the Grafe entry was made from Union-Fern, 328 Wall street.

THE WINNERS will receive a

Posturepedic mattress from the stores where they entered and are now being considered for the grand prize of $20,000 in cash common stocks or one of 31 expense-paid vacations for two in Jamaica via Delta Air Lines. Entrants were asked to choose a name for the Sealy Posturepedic girl.

Approximately 5,000 qualifying winners in the United States and Canada are to receive mattresses from their dealers. They were selected by the Reuben H. Donnelly Company, Chicago, contest judges. Grand prize winners will be announced in mid-August.

Beautiful, Eh?

And how much of it did you pay for?

The taxpayers of New York State (that's you!) have paid over $291,000,000 to the TVA. Your money . . . to help pay the electric bills of people hundreds of miles away . . . to generate below cost power that may even entice industry away from the Hudson Valley! The difference between your electric bill and below cost TVA bills is the tax subsidy that you and millions of others have made into the TVA pocket!

CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 31, 1956

Siemens, Sabino
Renamed by GLF

At a well attended meeting of the GLF membership of the Kingston area held Monday night at Lake Katrine Grange hall Harry J. Siemens of Sawkill and Michael Sabino of Lake Katrine were reelected as local committeemen. Mr. Siemens has served as chairman of the GLF members committee for this area. The term is for three years.

Other members of the committee are Ray Elmendorf, Kingston; Charles Relyea Jr., West Hurley; Ralph L. Allen, Kingston; and Joseph Browne, Kingston. L. C. Dixon and Son is the local agent-buyer in this area. There are approximately 500 customers in the Kingston area.

Members of the committee attend the annual meeting of the GLF at Syracuse in October and there vote on the management and policies of the organization which operates in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

At the meeting last evening the local group discussed matters pertaining to local participation, bulk feed, quality control and there were numerous questions asked and answered at the meeting. Reports on local and over-all operation of the GLF during the past year were given and at the conclusion of the business session movies were shown and refreshments served.

Predicts GOP Win

Topeka, Kan., July 31 (AP)—Alfred M. Landon, the Republican presidential candidate of 20 years ago, says he believes he will find more of interest in the Democratic National Convention than that of his own party. As a result, Landon will be on a fishing trip in Colorado. He does not even plan to listen to the GOP convention on radio or watch it on television. "It's going to be too cut and dried," is his simple explanation. "I think the Republicans probably will win in November," Landon said here yesterday and added, but there is always a question about anything in which the American voter is concerned."

Eventual Integration

Fort Pierce, Fla., July 31 (AP)—The city commission last night voted for a "policy for the eventual integrated use of municipally owned properties and facilities by all classes of citizens." It also set up a committee to make recommendations toward carrying out the policy. The resolution also noted, "we believe that in the best interest of all our citizens that the use of all municipal facilities for the time being must be maintained in the status quo."

Fiscal Exams
Of Five County
Units Completed

Completion of examination of the fiscal affairs of three common school districts and two townships in Ulster county was announced by State Comptroller Arthur Levitt.

The units examined were towns of Denning and Rochester and Common School Districts 1, 2 and 3 in the town of Ulster; District 4 in the town of Rosendale and District 14 in the town of Esopus.

Copies of the examination reports have been sent to the clerk and other officials of each of the towns and districts examined.

Since the reports are a part of the public record they are available for review by interested citizens. A copy of each of the reports is also on file at the Department of Audit and Control in Albany and is also available for public inspection.

Buddy Baer Acquitted

Van Nuys, Calif., July 31 (AP)—A jury has acquitted former boxer Buddy Baer of one count of child molestation and another of lewd vagrancy. Two other charges of child molestation were dismissed earlier yesterday by Judge Kenneth L. Holaday on a motion of Baer's attorney.

The charges against the 41-year-old actor, singer and brother of former heavyweight champion Max Baer, were brought by two 10-year-old girls and one 12-year-old. Baer denied the charges throughout the trial and maintained it was a case of mistaken identity. He testified he was working on a television film the afternoon of June 27, when the offenses were alleged to have occurred. James R. Nicholson, an assistant director, corroborated Baer's testimony.

Alaska was purchased from Russia in 1867. It was called a district until Aug. 24, 1912, when it became a territory.

Deckelman Upholds
Validity of Divorce

Albany, N. Y., July 31 (AP)—Justice William J. Deckelman of State Supreme Court has upheld the validity of a Florida divorce obtained by Dr. Robert T. Lansdale, former state commissioner of social welfare.

He dismissed a suit for legal separation brought by Mrs. Evelyn Lansdale and vacated an order granting her $350-a-month alimony pending settlement of suit.

Deckelman said the Florida divorce was "entitled to full faith and credit" in New York state.

The decision, filed yesterday in Albany County Clerk's office, freed Lansdale's credit of some $11,000 in the state retirement fund.

A court order had temporarily frozen the account pending settlement of the case. Lansdale was social welfare commissioner for nearly 10 years under Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

He later joined the faculty of Florida State University at Tallahassee.

Lansdale obtained a divorce on the ground of cruelty. His wife filed a separate action last year and alleged abandonment, cruelty and non-support.

Convicted for Punch

Annapolis, Md., July 31 (AP)—

A medical student who took a punch at an older man he thought had insulted his girl friend was convicted last night of manslaughter. Dr. Richard M. Wick, 53-year-old metallurgist from Allentown, Pa., died last Feb. 18, two days after he was struck by Gregory M. Dellipizzi. An all-male jury deliberated 2½ hours before convicting the 26-year-old student from Weirton, W. Va. Judge Benjamin Michaelson deferred sentencing Dellipizzi until Friday and said any motions by the defense would be argued then. There was no indication whether an appeal would be filed. Dellipizzi's $10,000 bail was continued.

Body Is Washed Ashore

Simcoe, Ont., July 31 (AP)—A body believed to be that of New York theatrical producer Gordon Pollock has washed up on the north shore of Lake Erie, at Long Point Beach. Provincial police said the body was found Sunday and they were awaiting the arrival of Pollock's mother, Mrs. Anna Pollock, from New York city to identify it.

The 28-year-old producer and his wife Norma disappeared April 15 while flying their small private plane from Detroit to New York. A suitcase of clothing, identified as Pollock's, washed ashore east of Erie, Pa., on the south shore of the lake, on April 24, and on May 8 another suitcase containing personal papers of the producer was found on the beach further to the east.

Two Cypriots Slain

Nicosia, Cyprus, July 31 (AP)—Two Greek Cypriots—a woman and a man—were slain last night in separate shootings on Cyprus. The woman was shot and killed just before midnight at Trypimeni, about 15 miles northeast of Nicosia. In southwest Cyprus, five masked men armed with shotguns blasted the leader of the village of Letymbour.

Margaret Rosaline Rice Weds Army Man

MRS. THOMAS GALLAGHER (Graffam photo)

The Rev. Edward J. Farrelly of St. Mary's Church officiated at the double ring wedding of Miss Margaret Rosaline Rice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Rice of 171 Lincoln street to Thomas John Gallagher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Gallagher, of 21 Lawrence street, Sunday, July 22, at 1:30 p. m. at the church.

Theodore Riccobono was at the organ and Patricia Bruck sang "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus."

Pink and white gladioli decorated the church for the occasion. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an imported embroidered four tiered organza gown styled with a floor length bouffant skirt, short scalloped sleeves and matching embroidered tapered mitts. Her headpiece of pleated nylon tulle and seed pearls held a fingertip illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Selina Ann Rice was the maid of honor for her sister. She wore a blue nylon tulle gown in waltz length and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Joseph Peter Gallagher of 21 Lawrence street was the best man for his brother.

Ushers included Thomas Kearney of 173 Lincoln street and Sylvester Augustine of Green street. Following the church ceremony, a reception was held at the Yacht Club for approximately 150 persons.

PARTY TO CELEBRATE ADOPTION

A wife writes: "My husband and I adopted a little girl about a year ago. The final papers will be coming through very soon making her our very own daughter. We are so nappy about this that we would like to give a party for friends and relatives to celebrate the occasion. Would such a party be in order, and if so, will you please tell me how the invitations should be worded."

A party certainly would be in order—in fact sounds very happy. Some such wording as this could be used: "At last Mary is ours! Will you come in to afternoon tea to celebrate with us?"

Refusing the Wine

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the correct way to refuse wine at the dinner table? I have been told that the glass should be turned upside down indicating that I do not drink; and in this way no wine will be poured into the glass. I would like to know whether this is considered correct table manners.

Answer: It would be very bad manners to turn your glass upside down. You should be alert and say, "No thank you!" before your glass is filled.

The Inside Envelopes

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother and I are preparing to address wedding invitations and there is some controversy as to how we should address the inside envelopes. Many of the invitations will go to friends and family of the groom whom we have never met. Are the inside envelopes that go to our personal friends and family also addressed the same way?

Answer: The inside envelopes of invitations going to members of the bridegroom's family would be addressed, Mr. and Mrs. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, etc. Those going to your family may if you prefer, be written "Uncle John and Aunt Mary," "Cousin Susie," etc.

Should a gentleman remove his hat in an elevator? This and many other questions are answered in Mrs. Post's leaflet "E-15, Manners in Public." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Freedom of Movement and Natural Line Is Keynote of Fashion Shows in Paris

Paris, July 31 (AP)—Loose belts, slotted around the hips, and eyebrow-deep cloche hats gave the Jacques Griffe show this morning a strong flavor of the 1920s or "Boy Friend" era. Griffe went further than any other designer with his theme.

But he was up to the minute with the bosom—emphasizing drapery, the barest necklines possible, and myriad versions of the little black dress, said to be the favorite of Marilyn Monroe. Nearly all the dressmakers presented their collections with freedom of movement and a natural line. Griffe was no exception.

One of the brightest ideas of his show was the olive-shaped skirt—for cocktail time. Charm jewelry turned out to be highly polished chunks of grapevine, set with diamonds or something equally shiny. Ostrich feather cloches had gently undulating brims, and there were big floppy satin hats, squashed felt cloches and bejeweled lace cloches.

While some houses like them hippy this year, Griffe likes them hipless. His low belts help along the illusion. But there are quite a few widely flared or gathered skirts tapering to the thinnest possible waistline and shirred bodices and ankle-length formal that look hooped.

Some of these dresses, done in satin, have a man-tailored shirt-jacket to cover up bare shoulders. Instead of the cascades of expensive embroidery other designers are using, Griffe prefers a mosaic pavement applique on a transparent ground, and a velvet striping with wide satin or moire ribbons, usually on black velvet.

Three-quarter length coats are somewhere between barrel and one shaped. Belts, besides slotting in and out of the fabric, sometimes point downward behind.

Inevitably, there are bows marching down slim sheaths, and a lavish use of gold silks, wools and jerseys. A popular suit material is rough white-flecked black tweed, and there are pink brocades. Black, red and pink are predominant colors.

MR. AND MRS. WALTER OLKOWSKI (Johnstone photo)

St. Mary's Church in Saugerties formed the background for the wedding of Miss Elaine Ann North, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour North of 11 Belvedere street, to Walter Joseph Olkowski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Olkowski of Malden-on-Hudson, Friday, July 27 at 5 p. m. The Rev. Joseph Gallagher officiated at the double ring ceremony.

For the wedding, the bride wore a gray and white suit with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage. Miss Joan Clancy of 51 Third avenue was the maid of honor. For the occasion she wore a rose suit with white accessories.

Best man was Peter Zmiyarch of Saugerties. A reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents in Malden-on-Hudson for the family and bridal party. The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and attended New Paltz State Teachers College. She is employed by IBM in Kingston.

The bridegroom attended Saugerties High School and is now attending Albany Business College. He also served with the U. S. Navy. When Mr. and Mrs. Olkowski return from their wedding trip to Canada, they will reside in Malden-on-Hudson.

New England Wedding Trip Is Planned By Couple Wed in Catskill July 29

MRS. GEORGE KIRTSON (Photo Workshop)

Miss Joyce Jean Hitchcock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Hitchcock of 40 Day street, Catskill, became the bride of George Kirtson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kirtson, 118 Boulevard, Sunday, July 29, at Catskill Methodist Church at 2 p. m.

The Rev. Lloyd B. Gilmour, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Hannah A. DeNyse was at the organ and Mrs. Arthur Toman sang, "Through The Years," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The altar was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and white pompons.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an all nylon tulle gown styled with chapel train, short sleeves with satin applique flowers on the neckline and skirt. On her head, she wore a circlet crown with a fingertip veil of imported silk bridal illusion. The bride carried a bouquet of camellias with ivy leaves.

Serving as matron of honor for the sister-in-law was Mrs. Robert J. Hitchcock of Hamilton Square, N. J. She wore a shrimp colored nylon chiffon waltz length gown fashioned with a square neckline and short sleeves. She also wore a picture hat with nylon chiffon trim to match her gown and carried Nile green gladioli with satin leaves.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. John Rich of Catskill and Miss Joan Wenzel of Andrew street.

The bridesmaids wore gowns of Nile green nylon chiffon, waltz length, square necklines and short sleeves. They also wore picture hats with nylon chiffon trim and carried bouquets of shrimp colored gladioli with satin outlined leaves.

Miss Cynthia Ann Hitchcock, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. Miss Hitchcock wore a Kate Greenaway dress of green nylon chiffon over matching tulle with a bonnet headpiece of matching chiffon. She carried a nosegay of roses.

Robert J. Hitchcock was best man for his brother. Ushers were Donald Cuddeback, brother-in-law of the bridegroom and David R. Hitchcock, brother of the bride.

Following the church ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors for approximately 125 guests.

Mrs. Kirtson is a graduate of Catskill High School and Moran Spencian School of Business. She is employed by the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston.

Her husband, a graduate of Kingston High School, is employed by the Campbell Construction Company in Port Jervis. He also served three years with the U. S. Army. For her trip through the New England states, the bride chose a traveling ensemble of a wine colored faille dress with white collar and portrait neckline and white accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirtson will reside at 203 Fair street when they return.

Will Inspect Ship

New York, July 31 (AP)—Nine Congressmen will go to a Brooklyn drydock tomorrow to inspect the Swedish ship damaged in the collision that sank the Italian luxury liner Andrea Doria. The congressmen, members of the House Merchant Marine Committee, will look over the liner stockholm as the first step in a probe of safety at sea. The two sleek modern ships collided in dense fog south of Nantucket Island, Mass., last Wednesday night. The 30,000-ton Doria plunged to the bottom of the Atlantic the next day. The 12,600-ton Stockholm struggled back to port here with a smashed bow.

John Rand, an American, invented the collapsible metal tube in 1841.

Sweden has close to 100,000 lakes left by retreating glaciers of the Ice Age.

Young Victim Buried

Providence, R. I., July 31 (AP)—Pretty, dark-haired Norma D. Sahdro, 4, youngest victim of last week's collision of the liners Stockholm and Andrea Doria, was buried today in the land she never saw. She was a passenger on the Andrea Doria with her parents who were coming to America from Milan, Italy to start a new life. Hundreds of hushed observers stood outside St. Ann's Church as the funeral procession came to a halt. The little white casket was carried up the stairs by six cousins.

OFFICE CAT

Trade Mark Reg. By Junius

When he answered the doorbell, the man discovered an old friend and a very large dog waiting on the porch. Man—Come in, come right in! The friend entered the living room and sat down, while the big dog promptly put the man's cat to flight, knocked over a table lamp and several vases, and finally made himself comfortable in an easy chair.

When the guest rose to leave, the host said with a touch of sarcasm in his voice, Man—Aren't you forgetting your dog?

Friend—Dog? I have no dog. I thought he was yours.

A young wife just learning to drive had hopelessly gotten traffic all snarled up in trying to make a left turn at an intersection. Excitedly she turned to a husband and asked what to do. "I don't know," he replied calmly, "but I'm sure if you climb into the back seat you can figure it out."

One stormy day a coast guard was ordered to the rescue of a liner wrecked off the coast of New England, as related by Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick. An old, tried seaman was in charge, but the members of the crew were for the most part young, untested men. When one of them comprehended the situation before them, he turned white-faced, to the captain, and said, "Sir, the wind is offshore, the tide is running out, but what good will it do? Against the wind and the tide we cannot come back. The grim old captain faced the

Swiss Press for Money

Washington, July 31 (AP)—I. G. Chemie, a Swiss holding company, is striving to keep open its suit to recover more than 100 million dollars in property seized by the United States as a war measure in 1952. The Justice Department said yesterday it had been advised that the Swiss company planned to ask reconsideration of a court ruling that set midnight last night as the deadline for production of papers the company said it needed in its case.

The Court of Appeals said Friday that it would not extend the time. That ruling paved the way for dismissal of the case in U. S. District Court.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Riding Club Announces Season's Activities

Woodstock, July 30—Activities for the remainder of the season have been announced by Woodstock Riding Club, Inc., at a meeting held at the Ohayo Mountain ring Thursday evening.

The annual fall field day will be held Sunday, Aug. 26. Serving on the committees are: George Hard, chairman; Phillips Milliken, ring clerk; Mrs. Griffin Herrick and Mrs. James Dargan, trophies; Richard Habershtroh, publicity; Griffin Herrick, grounds; Edward Donohue, stables; Mrs. Donohue and Virgil Van Wagenen, refreshment stand; Charles Roach, ring steward; Carl Altevogt, ring.

Chaperones for field for overnight visitors will be Mr. and Mrs. Edward Donohue, Lawrence Swars, numbers. The judge will be announced in the near future. George Hard will be the announcer.

It was also announced by Charles Ashley, chairman, that there would be a trail ride Sept. 16. Riders are asked to be prepared to leave the riding ring at 9 a. m. sharp. The route for the ride is as follows: Lake Hill to Mink Hollow to Silver Hollow and back to Ohayo Mt. ring, a journey of about 22 miles.

Junior riding days have been scheduled for Sundays, Sept. 30, Oct. 21 and Nov. 11, according to J. C. van Rijn chairman for these events.

The committee for the annual horse show to be held in June, 1957, and other committees were announced. They are: Mrs. Herbert Cubler and Mr. Ashley, co-chairmen; Griffin Herrick, publicity; Mrs. Paul LePaige, trails committee; Mr. Hard, activities; Mrs. Alton Dietz, Mrs. Dargan and Mrs. Freilan Van De Bogart, sick committee; Mr. van Rijn, junior activities.

The meeting was preceded by a pot luck supper.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, Aug. 16 at 6 p. m., at the club grounds.

Library Fair Gross Reported at $7,200

Woodstock, July 30—Unofficial gross collections from last week's annual Woodstock Library Fair amounted to $7,200, it was announced during the weekend.

Another large turnout was on hand for the full day of activities.

A new focal point of interest was the presentation of "In a Garden" a one act opera, by the Turnam Opera Players. It was enormously popular with the children, as was Dr. Benjamin Pressman's magic act, and many in the audience returned for a repeat performance later in the afternoon.

Among the guests at the fair were Miss Mary Margaret McBride, radio artist, who makes her summer home in West Shokan and Bob Browning, local area newscaster.

Underhill Resigns As Legion Trustee

Woodstock, July 30—Woodstock American Legion Post 1026, met last Wednesday night at Legion Hall. Wayne Underhill submitted his resignation as trustee of the post, and he made the suggestion that William MacReady, former adjutant, assume the office. Since it is necessary to bring this to a vote of the general membership, the replacement of Mr. Underhill was tabled until the next meeting.

Elwin J. Cooney, adjutant, was made the chairman of a committee to investigate the possibility of obtaining the Ontario School Band for the Memorial Day parade. Others on the committee are Mr. Underhill, Chester Gaede and Jack Feeley.

Two new members were admitted to membership, Gustav A. Gronlund of West Hurley and Jack Craver of Glasco Turnpike.

It was announced that the town of Shandaken and Poenicia will be invited to participate in the Memorial Day parade next year.

Bazaar Date Set

Woodstock, July 30—The Joan of Arc Chapel of St. John's Parish will hold the annual bazaar Sept. 1 from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m., at the Town Hall. The committee for the event will meet Thursday, 8 p. m., at the chapel.

Must Keep Patrol

Washington, July 31 (AP)—Adm. Arleigh Burke says the U. S. Navy must continue to patrol the Mediterranean with carrier forces. Otherwise, he says, the nation would have to abandon that area in wartime. The chief of naval operations made these statements to the Senate Air Power Subcommittee prior to Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal. It was Burke's view, in heavily censored testimony made public yesterday, that the U. S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean might be the only force able to retaliate in the first exchange of atomic assaults. Land based planes, he said, couldn't operate in that sector without the fleet. If the navy's carriers couldn't fight, "nobody can stay there," he said.

Gets Tax Post

Albany, N. Y., July 31 (AP)—John J. Purcell of Albany has been appointed director of the Miscellaneous Tax Bureau of the State Tax Department, in which he has worked since 1953. Tax Commissioner George M. Bragallini made the appointment yesterday. Purcell, who had been acting bureau director since March 16, will receive $11,620 a year. The new director succeeds Miss Mary Goode Krone of Chappaqua who resigned to become a state civil service commissioner.

Beech-Nut Merger

New York, July 31 (AP)—Stockholders of Beech-Nut Packing Co., and Life Savers Corp., yesterday approved the merger of the two companies, effective tomorrow. The new company is to be known as Beech-Nut Life Savers Inc. Shares in the new company will become eligible Thursday for trade on the New York Stock Exchange. The stock will be issued in the ratio of one and two-tenths shares for each share of Beech-Nut Packing Co., and one share for each share of Life Savers Corp. The company will have 3,212,634 shares of common stock outstanding. The Beech-Nut plant is located at Canajoharie, N. Y., and the Life Saver plant at Port Chester, N. Y. Beech-Nut manufactures baby foods and chewing gum as well as candy.

Work on Greylock TV Antenna Off Until FCC Ruling

Due to the absence of the president of the Greylock Broadcasting Company in Europe, it has been impossible to make decisions regarding the reconstruction of WMGT in the light of the FCC proposal for allocation issued June 25.

At a directors meeting of the company held Monday, it was decided not to proceed with the antenna and tower reconstruction on Mt. Greylock, destroyed by hurricane winds Feb. 25, until the FCC proposal is clarified and made firm with regard to the Albany Capital District-Pittsfield area.

The FCC has invited comments on its proposal until September 15, and a decision regarding this area is anticipated early in October.

When WMGT resumes operation there is a strong possibility that it will affiliate with another television station in the area for joint operations in National and Network programming.

Legion Nine Plays Yonkers at Stadium in State Semi-Finals

Elks Take Lead In NY-NJ Loop; Bronx Second

Poughkeepsie Elks have taken the lead in the New York-New Jersey League with 9 wins and 2 losses.

Bronx Mohawks have advanced to second place with three straight wins in the past week for a 7-2 record. Paterson Generals, victimized by Nyack over the weekend, are third with 9 wins and 3 setbacks.

League Standings

Won	Lost
Poughkeepsie Elks	9 2
Bronx Mohawks	7 3
Paterson Generals	7 3
Nyack	4 5
Saugerties	4 7
Walden Jewels	3 6
Brooklyn Windors	2 5
Jersey City	2 6
Kingston Colonials	2 6

The Bronx nine turned back Kingston, 7-5, Walden Jewels, 8-7, in 10 innings; and Brooklyn Windors, 9-5. Colonials have slumped to last place, tie with the Jersey City Colored Cardinals.

In weekend games, the Colonials travel to Brooklyn Windors Friday night and play Nyack Saturday at Dietz Stadium.

Bronx plays Jersey City Saturday and Brooklyn Sunday. Walden is at Paterson. Saugerties and Poughkeepsie are idle.

Ren Giannuzzi Goes Tonight Against Aces

Winning Team Goes To Cooperstown Next

A Saturday trip to fabled Abner Doubleday Field at Cooperstown for the New York State American Legion Junior baseball finals awaits the winner of tonight's baseball game at Dietz Stadium.

Kingston Post has a tired but willing Renni Giannuzzi to throw against a crack Yonkers aggregation under the Stadium arc lights at 8 o'clock.

If Giannuzzi, who struck out 18 Granville batters Saturday night, is not up to par, the Legion hopes will rest with Johnny Mustion of Kerhonkson or Bob Short of Port Ewen.

Yonkers undefeated through Westchester county and inter-sectional competition, has two crack pitchers ready.

Romeo Fields is the tentative starter and comes to the stadium with a dazzling strikeout record.

The other flinger, Hank Fisher, stopped Bell Telephone of the Bronx, the outfit that eliminated Kingston at White Plains last year, 11-1 with a one-hitter.

Fields and Fisher each have pitched a no-hit, no-run game in this year's Legion competition.

Manager Tom Maines plans no changes in the remainder of the local lineup which has sailed through Catskill, Albany, Schoharie and Granville en route to the state semi-finals.

Ontora Trips West Shokan; Phoenicia Wins

Ontora defeated West Shokan, 10-4, and Phoenicia, 1955 champions, routed Shandaken, 15-9, in opening games of the Ontora summer baseball league yesterday.

Ontora collected 18 hits off Art Gibbons and Lee Denman, including three each by Bud Finch, Al Studt and Bud Sorensen.

Bud Finch, the Ontora hurler, kept the scoring at a minimum despite 14 West Shokan safeties. Bud Sorensen clouted two doubles and Pat Coletti hit a pair of triples.

In today's games, Shandaken plays Ontora and West Shokan is at Phoenicia.

Weather Checks Olympic Races

Atlantic, Highlands, N. J., July 31 (AP)—Barring another day of fickle winds, the nation's top star boat skippers try to run off two races today in the five-race Olympic finals.

Yesterday's scheduled race, the third, was called off by the racing committee as the 10 competing boats couldn't even cross the starting line on breathless Sandy Hook Bay. The race was reset for this morning with the fourth race to go off this afternoon as originally scheduled.

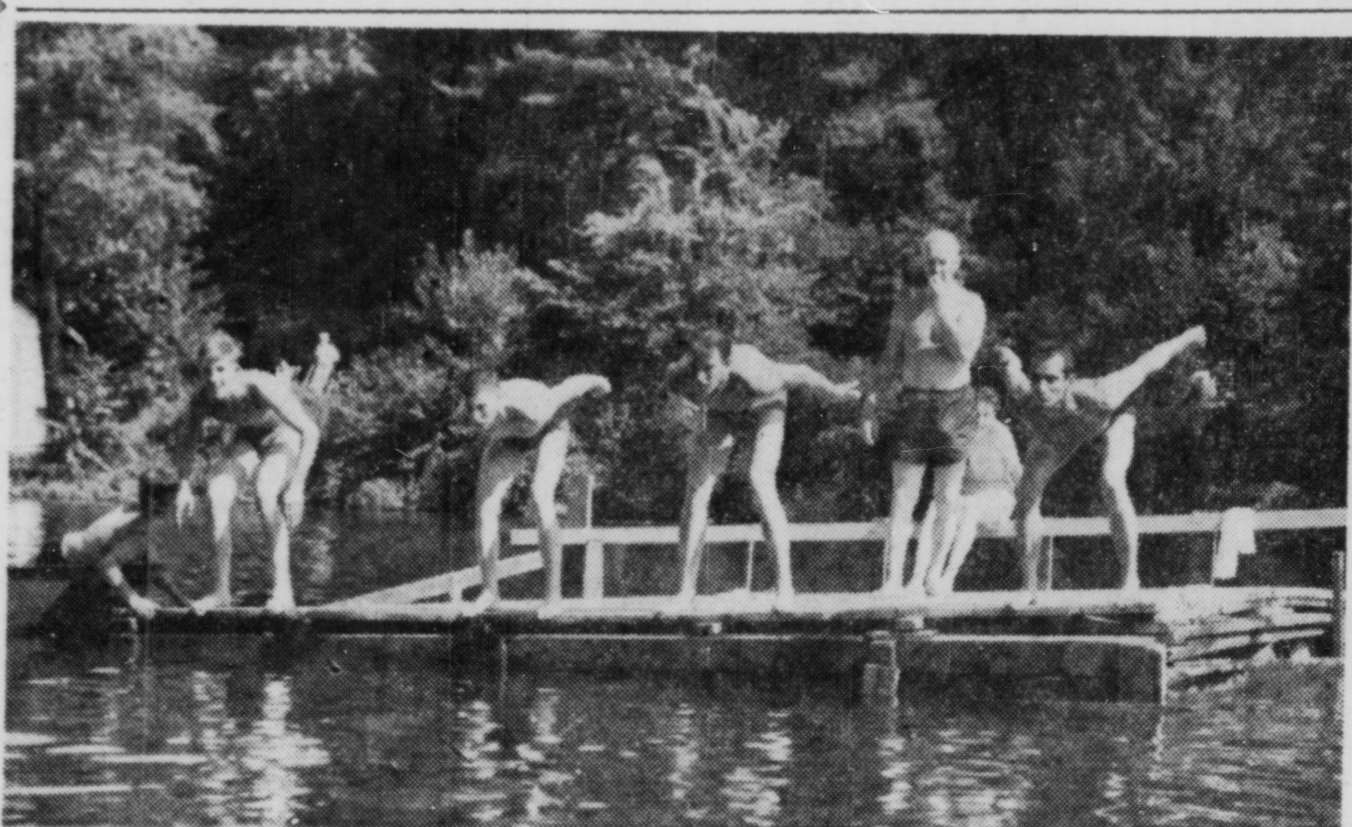

Harry Nye of Chicago was leading by one point after two races. The sailor with the highest point total will represent the United States in the Olympic star competition in Australia this November.

NYE, an engineer and twice world star champion, has scored a first and fifth so far to lead the class fleet with 16 points. Right behind him is Hartwell A. Moore, a salt water sailor from Huntington Bay, N. Y., with 15 points.

Tied for fourth with 14 points are James Schoonmaker of Fishers Island, N. Y., and H. P. Williams of Chicago.

Bill Lyon of the host Atlantic Highlands Yacht Club is tied for fifth with William W. Park of Chicago at 13 points.

Richard Sterns of Chicago has 10 points; Robert Cameron, Chicago, 7; Skip Etchells, Central Long Island Sound, 6; and Paul Smart, Central Long Island Sound, 2.

THE FOUR FINALISTS in the 50-yard swim for men at DeWitt Lake yesterday are in usual order: Anthony Battaile, Jay McGrath, George Powers and George Canellos. Lou Schafer is the starter. (Freeman photo.)

Jake Smith pounded a grand slam homer in the fifth inning and two-run homer in the first to pace Wimpys' Grill to a 15-4 triumph over Chez Emile in the City Softball League.

Miron Lumber shaded Perry's, 8 to 7, in extra innings as Dick Bradley pitched an 8-hitter and B. May and Carlo Perry hit homers. Joe Venuti, who gave 15 hits, was the loser.

Hilltop scored six runs in the fourth inning to nip Prospect Dairies, 7 to 6, as Al Cross and Frank Boyce collaborated on a 9-hitter. The winners made the same number off John Kozlowski and Casino.

SUBWAY Grill enjoyed an 11-run spree in the fourth inning and went on to drub Maddens' Aces, 19 to 3, behind Tom Spada's four-hitter. The Grills rocked Ed Kalcinski for 17, including four each by Bill Haber and Frank Spada.

J. May went "4 for 4" for the Lumberjacks and Vince Peck stroked three singles for Perry's. R. Whittaker had a pair of doubles.

Four home runs enlivened the Subway-Madden contest, with Frank Spada, Dick Bezemer, Al Hunt and Bill Haber hitting one each.

Lou Perry cracked a double and two singles and Martini rapped a home run for Prospect Dairies. Fred Schryver delivered a two bagger and two singles for Hilltop.

Woman Suffers Head Injuries In Collision

One person was treated for head injuries in a three-car collision Monday night at the intersection of Routes 209 and 44-55, town of Wawarsing, Ellenville state police reported.

Treated for contusions of the head by a local physician was Margaret Countryman, 25, of RFD Accord.

Mrs. Countryman was traveling north on Route 209 in a 1949 sedan when a 1951 sedan operated by Leslie E. Rathbun, 26, RFD, Accord, drove out of a gas station on the southwest corner in an easterly direction across Route 209 into the path of the Countryman car, troopers said.

A 1954 suburban operated by Harold Lipton, 30, Kerhonkson, which was stopped at a stop sign on Route 44-55 facing west, was involved when the Countryman car was pushed into it by the Rathbun car, it was reported.

Both the Countryman and Rathbun cars had to be towed away. Trooper H. H. Ganss investigated. Time of the accident was listed as 9:35 p. m.

Cool Spell Continues Over Northeast Area

(By The Associated Press)

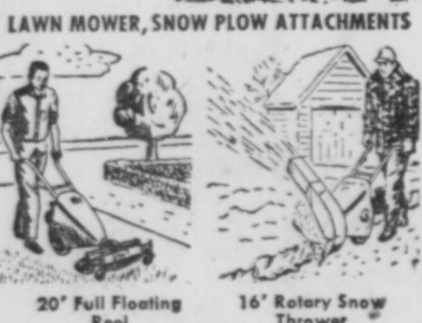

A late July cool spell continued in most of the northeast today while fairly warm weather prevailed in other sections.

Temperatures dropped into the 50s during the night. One of the lowest marks early today was 44 at Phillipsburg, Pa. Readings were in the low 70s over the area yesterday, with the day's high of only 37 at Mt. Washington, N. H.

It was warm during the night over most of the west with a sprinkling of 70 degree readings as far north as Idaho and Montana. Temperatures in the upper 70s and low 80s were reported along the Gulf coast and extended as far north as southern Iowa and eastern Nebraska.

Showers were in prospect for most of the Great Lakes region. Mostly fair and somewhat warmer weather prevailed for most of the northern plains and from the mid Atlantic coast states northward through New England.

Mrs. Cubberly Is Found Ill Monday At Her Residence

Mrs. Florence W. Cubberly, 70, of 185 Main street, was found seriously ill in her home yesterday afternoon after neighbors noticed that she had apparently not been active about the house recently.

Police were notified at 3:58 p. m., and she was taken to Kingston Hospital in a Schultz ambulance after police entered the house through a kitchen window and found her on the floor of a bedroom. Her condition was reported today as "apparently serious."

Mrs. Helen Turner, of 197 Main street, reported to police headquarters that Mrs. Cubberly had not been seen about the house "for the past several days," and milk and papers had accumulated on the porch.

Officers Edward Leonard and Myer Levy were dispatched to the house and the ambulance was called. Mrs. Norman Franz, of 81 Emerson street assisted at the house, and Franklin Pierce, of 10 Maiden Lane, a friend, got word to Mrs. Cubberly's son, Adrian, of 11 Shore Hill Road, Clifton, N. J., who has been on vacation at South Bristol, Me.

Atom Ship Bill Signed

Gettysburg, Pa., July 30 (P)—President Eisenhower today signed the bill authorizing construction of an atomic powered merchant ship—the world's first so far as is known. The President had asked Congress to authorize an atomic peace ship that would visit the harbors of the world carrying exhibits of the peaceful uses of the atom. Democrats in Congress dubbed it a "showboat" and advocated instead the atom powered merchant ship as provided in the bill. No limit is set on cost of the vessel. Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash.) has said the cost has been estimated at about 40 million dollars.

Work Week Shorter For Most of 34,000

Albany, N. Y., July 31 (P)—Most of the 34,000 state employees who had been assigned to 40-hour-plus work weeks have been placed on shorter work weeks, Gov. Harriman reported today.

The governor said in a statement that the work-week reduction authorized by the 1956 legislature had been virtually completed "much more rapidly" than had been expected.

The new legislation provided for a four-hour cut in the work week of 30,210 employees who were on 48-hour weeks and of 3,856 working 44 hours a week. Most of the workers are employed in state institutions.

None of them loses any pay through the move.

Harriman reported that, as of June 20, a total of 25,939 employees had been cut from 48 to 44 hours and all but 26 of those working 44 hours had been reduced to 40 hours.

In addition, he said there were 1,355 vacant jobs in the 48-hour category that, when filled, would be placed on a 44-hour basis. That left only 2,916 still working more than 44 hours a week.

The governor's office said that group had to continue working longer hours "due to vacancies and the need for maintaining essential services."

When the new law went into effect April 1, it was estimated that the switch-over would take about a year. Harriman said
